Half-Billion Cut in VA Funds Passed by Committee

Forces Pad Money Bids, Says Hoover

Study, He Says, Reveals Excessive Requests for Funds

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today the armed services apparently are "padding" their requests to Congress for money.

From a study of the figures, he told the Senate Armed Services Committee, "It is difficult to escape the conclusion that some padding has been a fairly general practice."

The committee is studying changes in the law which put the Army, Navy and Air Force under a single department, Hoover was called as a witness because he has headed a commission which has put in months of study on possible improvements in the government's organization.

Hoover gave the committee a report from so-called "task force" which studied the military establishment for the Hoover Commission.

This report said "our military budget system has broken down." Both budget and appropriations system of the Army and Navy are "antiquated" and "they impede administration and interfere with the efficiency of the military establishment," the report continued. "It added:

Congress allocates billions without accurate knowledge as to why they are necessary and what they are being used for."

In a separate statement, Hoover said the greatest weakness of the Army-Navy-Air Force unification law "lies in the lack of clear authority and responsibility assigned to the secretary of defense."

But giving the secretary more authority, Hoover went on, will not remedy the condition of the military budget which "displays a startling state of affairs."

Note Writer Is Still Unidentified

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said today that the youngster who admitted writing an anonymous note threatening the life of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk last week, still remains unidentified.

Authorities are convinced that the writer of the threatening note and the second one saying "I am sorry for the trouble I have caused" are in the same hand.

Both were lettered in pencil and the second said: "Until I read the paper, I had no idea I had done something bad. I go to school here and my mother and father would probably die of shame if they knew I did it."

The investigation has been continued with the hope of indicating beyond a doubt that the note which threatened the mayor and his family because of the local housing dispute, was a thoughtless, childish prank and nothing else.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 11 (AP)—The position of the Treasury April 7: New budget receipts $1,941,955.90; budget expenditures $1,161,850,959.93; cash balance $5,001,022,224.79; customs receipts for month $7,159,240.80; budget receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $30,538,367,551.01; budget expenditures for fiscal year $27,403,861,318.65; budget surplus $3,074,506,232.16; total debt $251,395,461,689.13; decrease under previous day $105,049,413.35; gold assets $24,316,940,865.19. X—$29,807,243,384.56 counting foreign economic cooperation trust fund expenditures. Y—$731,124,166.45 surplus counting expenditures above.

All Agencies Mentioned in Bill Share in Reductions for Year

Washington, April 11 (AP)—A half billion dollar cut in Veterans' Administration funds highlighted a $757,886,231 multi-agency money bill approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The bill carries funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1 for 28 so-called independent agencies, including $5,145,431,940 for the Veterans' Administration and $1,080,120,397 for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Every agency in the bill shared in the overall reduction of $734,680,599 from the Presidential budget requests for $8,311,566,830, but the Veterans' Administration took the deepest slash.

The bill's total includes $7,104,571,033 in cash and $472,314,628 in contract authorizations for which future appropriations may be required. The President had asked for $7,775,566,830 in cash and $536,000,000 in contract authority.

Not only did the committee upset the President's budget on the money items, but it refused to follow his Budget Bureau's recommendation for cancellation of $237,000,000 in previously authorized Veterans' Hospital construction.

It even cut the Budget Bureau's own budget.

Substantial cuts were recommended for these Veterans' Administration operations:

Administrative expenses, from $845,897,000 to $820,673,940; pensions, from $2,220,580,000 to $1,908,801,000; readjustment benefits under the G. I. Bill, from $2,441,670,000 to $2,197,503,000.

More Than in 1947-48

But even with the overall $508,750,000 reduction, the total V. A. fund would be $1,977,910 more than Congress gave the agency this year however, the committee said, the V. A. will have about $800,000,000 less to spend next year than it had this year because some of the new funds will be used during the remaining months of this fiscal year.

In explanation of the big cuts in V. A. funds, the committee said there is no way to determine accurately the exact needs of some of the programs.

In refusing to go along with the Budget Bureau in cancelling $237,000,000 in hospital building authority for which the money has not yet been provided, the committee said the President could decide what part of the construction program should go ahead.

The Budget Bureau proposal, the committee said, would have eliminated 24 hospitals and altered the size of 15 others in the proposed construction program.

Dewey Signs Bill to Test Drivers in Three Crashes

Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill requiring compulsory re-examination of automobile drivers involved in three accidents within 18 months in which a person was killed or injured or in which property damage exceeded $50.

Dewey, who long has made traffic safety a pet personal project, noted in a memorandum:

"I am happy indeed to add my approval to this bill which I believe will save lives and help reduce the ever increasing danger to lives and property on our streets and highways."

"I am informed by the state commissioner of motor vehicles . . . that in an 18 months' period between 7,000 and 7,500 motor vehicle operators would be subject to re-examination as a result

Mass Burial Planned for 6 Blast Dead

Marion, S. D., April 11 (AP)—This small South Dakota town today planned a mass funeral for the six Holy Week worshippers killed Sunday as a blast demolished St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Bishop William P. Brady of Sioux Falls, diocesan head, tentatively set Wednesday for the mass rites for the elderly victims who died as they knelt in prayer. Forty-seven persons were injured, several critically.

The brick church was shattered by a basement explosion a few moments before the 9 a. m. Palm Sunday Mass was to begin. Only the entrance bell tower remained standing. A small fire that followed was quickly put out.

Church officials attributed the blast to escaping bottled furnace fuel gas. Phil Wachendorf, a parishioner, said "everything blew up" when he threw a furnace switch.

Although buried in the wreckage and suffering from injuries and serious burns, Wachendorf was able to free himself and crawl out.

Others were pinned under bricks and timbers which had to be pried loose to free them. The church had a seating capacity of 250 but only about 75 worshippers were in their pews. Many others stood in small groups outside while waiting for the Mass to begin. They escaped injury.

The priest, Father Joseph Zimmermann, 73, was preparing to enter the palm benediction altar. When Mrs. George Blitzer and Mrs. Philip Luka, all of Marion, and Charles Mc Ginnis of nearby Monroe, all were in their 60s or 70s.

Those killed, besides Mrs. Reding, were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Reding, whose mother, Mrs. Peter Reding, was among those killed. Joined by Dr. W. E. Heib, he gave first aid to the injured. Both made a house-to-house canvass later to make sure none of the injured had gone untreated to their homes.

Second Strike Reported

Washington, April 11 (AP)—A strike of about 200 mechanical workers today halted publication of the capital's newspapers for the second time within a week. The strike of pressmen and stereotypers against the four daily papers, began after an all-night "peace" meeting failed to end a wage dispute. Afternoon editions of three newspapers were the first affected.

Three Men Rescued

New York, April 11 (AP)—After 20 hours adrift in the Atlantic Ocean in an open lifeboat, three Long Island men were brought in yesterday by a Coast Guard helicopter. One of the three, Lawrence Brown, 24, of Wills on Park, could hardly walk when rescued. His feet were affected by the icy salt water. He and his companions, Joseph Kulikowski, 23, of Mineola, and Raymond Riddick, 23, of Williston Park, were treated at a hospital for exposure. They later went home.

5 Top Nazis Convicted Of War Acts

Leading Officials First To Be Convicted by All-U. S. Court for Aggressive Plans

To Be Sentenced

Verdicts Will Be Given Thursday; Described as 'Core'

Nuernberg, Germany, April 11 (AP)—Five of Hitler's top government officials were convicted by a U. S. War Crimes Court today of helping him plan aggressive war. They were the first Germans to be convicted of war plotting by an all-American court. Not since the international military tribunal convicted Hermann Goerring and 18 other high Nazis nearly three years ago had any German been found guilty on his charge.

Today's verdicts began the final act of this last war crimes trial before an American court.

One of those convicted to lay was Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, state secretary in Hitler's Foreign Office and one time Nazi ambassador to the Vatican. He was found guilty of plotting aggressive war against Czechoslovakia.

Also convicted were: Wilhelm Keppeler, 66, Hitler's economic adviser and founder of the "Circle of Friends" of the Gestapo chief, Heinrich Himmler. Ernst Woermann, 61, chief of the Political Division of the Foreign Office.

Heinrich Lammers, 69, one-eyed chief of the Hitler Reich Chancellery, described by the court as one of the most powerful men in the Nazi hierarchy.

Paul Koerner, 55, industrialist who was Goering's deputy in the four-year plan. The court said his job was to "make Germany ready for war in four years."

The sentences probably will not be announced until Thursday, when the three-judge court completes reading its 833-page finding.

There were 21 defendants tried on seven different counts, of which plotting aggressive war was the first. Nine defendants were acquitted of this charge. The other seven were not accused under it.

The 21 defendants all were diplomats or high officials of the Nazi government. The prosecution called them the "core of Nazi conspiracy" with which Hitler could not have waged his war.

Weizsaecker was the chief defendant. His attorney, Warren E. Magee of Washington, D. C., put up an impressive defense. Weizsaecker claimed he actually had been an anti-Nazi remaining in office only to oppose Hitler's program. He offered testimony by many high foreign officials, "he court conceded he had worked secretly against Hitler and advised against most Hitler aggressions. He was cleared of guilt in all Germany's attacks except one—the attack on Czechoslovakia.

Unimpaired by testimony for his part in the invasions of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Russia.

One of the defendants, Gustav Steengracht von Mayland, was stricken with typhoid fever as the trial's end neared. The other defendants, all housed in the same jail, were to be tested to see if they had contracted the disease. Three other defendants were absent from court today because of illness, but they were reported to have other ailments.

Those acquitted of the charge of plotting aggressive war were Karl Ritter Edmund Goosenhayer, Wilhelm Stuckert, Richard Walter Durie, Otto Dietrich, Gottlieb Berger, Walter Schellenberg, Lutz Schwerin von Krosigk and Paul Fleiger. All were acquitted of charge of a common plan and conspiracy to commit crimes against peace and crimes against humanity.

J. A. McFall Dies in Catskill of Injuries; Hit by Car

Jerome Albert McFall, 65, former well known resident of Saugerties, died at the Greene County Memorial Hospital in Catskill this morning of injuries received when struck by a hit-run automobile Sunday night, state police reported.

McFall was struck by an unidentified automobile about 9:30 p. m. while he was walking along Route 32 near West Camp, state police said. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he died at 5:10 a. m. today.

State police at Lake Katrine were notified and began an investigation in an attempt to learn the identity of the hit-run driver. Coroner Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston has ordered an autopsy.

McFall was a chemist employed by the Lehigh Portland Cement Company for 30 years. The seven years prior to his retirement in 1948 he worked at that company's Alsen plant. Before that he worked at the Lehigh plant in New Castle, Pa.

During his employment at Alsen, McFall resided in and near Saugerties at various places and one identification found by state police listed his address as R.F.D. 1, Saugerties. However, his exact residence at the time of death has not been determined. Coroner Kelly reported that he has not been able to locate any relatives.

Body Is Recovered From Well; Doctor Says Girl Drowned

Heroic Rescue Work Ends Futilely; Parents Are Grateful for All Done to Help

San Marino, Calif., April 11 (AP)—The world is a little sadder today. Little Kathy, Fiscus was brought up from her well tomb after 52 hours.

All mothers and fathers shared in some measure the grief that overcame David and Alice Fiscus when the body of their tow-headed three-year-old was found lying in water, wedged about 100 feet down in the 14-inch pipe.

The announcement of death, by drowning, at 8:58 (P.S.T.) last night brought to a tragic end the tireless digging of weary rescuers and the anxious waiting of sympathizers everywhere.

Since sunny, little Kathy, running at play, stumbled into the weed-covered well opening last Friday afternoon, accounts of the attempt to reach her had stirred the nation, and the rest of the world, as few stories have in years.

Even though nothing had been heard from the child since about an hour after she plunged into the abandoned old casing, hope and prayer filled most human hearts.

Milton Man Hurt Seriously in Crash

Automobile Strikes Bank, Overturns on 9W Near Highland

John Young, 47, of Milton was seriously injured when the automobile he was driving struck a stone embankment and overturned on Route 9W about four miles north of Highland early Sunday morning, state police reported.

Young is believed to have been traveling south toward Milton about 3:50 a. m. when the car sideswiped the stone embankment, state police said. Young apparently was thrown from the automobile, as he was found pinned underneath. State police said it was necessary to jack the automobile up before removing the injured man.

He was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where his condition was reported "serious." State police believe Young was alone at the time of the accident. The automobile, owned by his sister, Eleanor Young, also of Milton, was badly damaged, police said.

Republican Leader Says Present Proposition Represents Hard Work by Mayor

Vincent G. Connelly, Republican city chairman, today released the following statement relative to the proposed housing project:

In 1947 the Republican party through Oscar V. Newkirk made a pledge to the people of the city of Kingston that every effort would be made by him to secure additional housing for the citizens of the city of Kingston. Since his inception to the office of mayor 15 months ago he has worked hard upon the problem and as a result on April 5 the Division of State Housing approved a project for the city of Kingston.

In the past week rather violent passions have been unleashed in our city because of the project. The opponents of the project are good and sincere citizens who have every right to express their opinions and to do everything possible to make their point of view prevail. By the same token, the proponents of the project are entitled to the same consideration without the circulation of base and baseless rumors of political graft and ulterior motives.

The purpose of the project is to do something concrete with respect to the housing shortage in the city of Kingston. The intent is to aid many and hurt no one. On any controversial or debatable question, the best solution is reached by weighing and valuing the arguments on both sides. I am no expert on the subject of public housing and still have a lot to learn, but for the past week I have listened to many arguments on the pros and cons.

Opponents of the project might be divided into two classes: (1) those who oppose any public housing whatsoever for the city of Kingston; and (2) those who are not opposed to the principle but are opposed to public housing in the area selected.

Will of Majority

Some of those who oppose any public housing shun it as socialism. To answer to that argument means to me to be that the subject was amply and well debated prior to the election days on which the people of the state of New York approved bond issues for public housing projects. By a majority vote the people on those occasions showed their approval of such projects, and under our system of government the ideas of the majority of what is socially desirable become a part of established state policy.

The project is financed by a 50-year state loan payable out of the rents of the project. Some opponents of any project state that the city of Kingston is incurring a financial obligation because of this loan that might have to be financed out of general tax revenues. Ordinarily, in reasoning one must deal with probabilities and not with possibilities that are so remote as to be insubstantial.

No White Elephant

The city of Kingston is to be credited with a subsidy of $42,000 a year. The rents will be very low, yet they have been computed by experts to be sufficient for maintenance and to pay off the bonds in ten years. One cannot validly argue that a white elephant is going to be built, and vacancies exist, when the rent per room, with all utilities furnished, will be less than $9.00 per room per month.

An argument is made of risk to

Senate Unit Given Data On Bridge

Local Proponents Tell Subcommittee Need for Shifting of Main Channel

To Need $400,000

Marine Interests Favor Change, Group Is Told

Need for a Federal appropriation to improve the Hudson river channel off Kingston, was presented to the Subcommittee on Deficiency and Army Civil Functions of the Senate Committee on Appropriations at a hearing held Saturday morning at the room of the Senate Appropriations Committee at the capitol in Washington, D. C.

Attending this meeting was Congressman Jay LeFevre of New Paltz, congressman from the 30th Congressional district; James F. Loughran, Kingston member of the New York State Bridge Authority; Senator Irving Ives and representatives of the United States Army Corps of Engineers. Senator McKelvin, chairman of the subcommittee, presided.

The purpose of the meeting was to present facts to show the need and desirability of shifting the main channel off Kingston from the present westerly side of the river to a more advantageous location on the easterly side of the river.

This shift of the main channel would not only relieve a dangerous condition which now exists to navigation but would also relocate the deep water channel east of the site of one of the bridge piers for the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. The change in location of the channel is advocated and approved by the marine interests who use the Hudson river for freighters plying between the Port of Albany and New York city.

Army engineers have estimated that an appropriation of $400,000 would be required for the improvement.

Ives Arranged Hearing

The meeting was called at the request of Congressman LeFevre.

Housing Hearing May Be Shifted to Local Auditorium

Tomorrow night's public hearing on the city's proposed housing project may be adjourned from the Common Council chamber to the Municipal Auditorium if the crowd is too large for the city hall room, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

Plans for moving the hearing, if necessary, the mayor indicated, should offset rumors in the 12th Ward that veterans and union members plan to arrive at 6 p. m. and occupy all space in the council chamber.

The mayor said a problem of overcrowding the meeting room will arise if more than 250 persons attend the hearing which is scheduled to open at 7:30 p. m.

This he discussed with Eighth Ward Alderman Joseph Bruck, chairman of the Finance Ways and Means Committee, before whom the hearing will be conducted, and the alderman explained that the opening must take place in the council chamber as announced in the legal notice, but in the event the crowd is too large, arrangements have been made to transfer the session immediately to the auditorium.

A near capacity crowd turned out for the Common Council meeting last Tuesday night when state approval of the project was formally announced to the councilmen and the proposal was referred to the finance committee for hearing.

New interest has been astir among factions for and against the project during the past week, and indications are that the crowd will overflow the council chamber.

Many city officials as well as persons directly concerned with the project are expected to attend, and State Commissioner of Housing Herman T. Stuchman informed the mayor and Arthur A. Davis, Jr., head of the local Housing authority last week that he would send two representatives of his department.

T-H Law Friends and Foes Maneuver Toward Action

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Congressional friends and foes of the Taft-Hartley Act maneuvered today toward real action in the battle over repeal of the law.

C.I.O. unions were under orders to drum up "additional and badly needed support" among Congressmen for the administration's labor bill. Two Republican Senators meanwhile planned extensive alterations for the measure when it hits the Senate floor.

Capital Hill's big labor debate of 1949 is scheduled now to begin April 26 in the House. Due to a jam of business, the Senate probably will not join in the tussle until several weeks later.

The House Rules Committee is due to decide today or tomorrow on clearing the administration bill for floor action.

The week-end produced two important developments:

1. Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Ives (R-N.Y.) tentatively agreed on a bundle of amendments they plan to offer to the administration bill.

2. C.I.O. President Philip Murray called for faster action on repeal of the present law almost unanimously opposed by labor unions, and branded as a "foul concoction" a proposed substitute for the administration's repealer.

The Taft-Ives proposals were expected to attract strong Senate support. Taft led senators who worked over a House labor bill in 1947 and blended it with a Senate bill into the present law. Ives had wide experience with labor problems in the New York legislature before coming to Congress.

While subject to change, they

Moore Releases Financial Report

Albany, April 11—State Comptroller Frank C. Moore issued today, in printed form, a preliminary report for the fiscal period which ended March 31, 1949.

The preliminary report, Comptroller Moore said, is "designed to give the citizens of New York state, as promptly as possible, a concise, clear and correct understanding of the finances of the state."

Information in the preliminary report amplifies the statement on the state's year-end fiscal position which was transmitted to Governor Thomas E. Dewey by the comptroller on April 1. Included in the report are statements of general fund revenues, expenditures for state purposes and for local assistance, the year-end operating surplus, the condition of the tax stabilization reserve funds and the state's net debt.

A reduction at the close of the year of $86.2 million in the state's net debt, even though new indebtedness of $66.5 million was incurred during the year, largely for public housing.

An increase of $18.9 million in general fund revenues, to a total of $727.5 million;

An increase of $9.5 million in expenditures for state purposes to a total of $324.8 million;

An increase of $11 million in local assistance payments to a total of $400.4 million;

State purposes expenditures accounted for 44.8 per cent and local assistance payments for 55.2 per cent of the $725.2 million total of general fund expenditures.

Returns Must Be Filed
Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—The State Tax Commission had a personal message today for 3,400,000 New Yorkers—get that state income tax return filed. The deadline is April 19—a week from today—so far only about 600,000 returns have been received. The commission said yesterday. That compares with 800,000 at this time a year ago. An estimated 4,000,000 persons must file.

TELEVIEWED FUTURE

We were reading the other day about a new television store in Englewood, N. J., which presented gifts to every purchaser of a new set on its opening day. Among the presents were two tickets to a Broadway show and dinner for four at a New York night club.

"It was like the good old days," the story began. In a way it was. And the cash customers probably enjoyed the experience of being wooed again by a storekeeper after years of shortages and seller's markets.

But the give-away was also a sign of the televised future. The theatre and night club dividend was a sort of last fling as well as a sales inducement. It represented a gesture by the dealer that was confident as well as gracious. He could make it on the secure assumption that neither theatre nor night club would be much competition once the new set was installed.

From now on these suburbanites will be getting most such entertainment in the living room. The bright lights of Broadway will be summoned up by the flick of a switch, and without the attendant bother of traffic, parking, crowds and cover charges.

This free night of entertainment for the new television owners may be only one of a series of last flings. With the spread of television networks Broadway might become more a distribution center for entertainment than the glamorous Mecca of the lively arts. Perhaps people will become as little interested in where their entertainment originates as they now are in which packing plant processed their Sunday roast.

Television must solve plenty of big problems before it becomes a real competitor with the shadow, substance and sound shows. But there is plenty of evidence that the new medium, crude as it may be, is tightening up the family circle, and that video is becoming an important new member of the old team of home and fireside.

PROPHET OF HOPE

Winston Churchill has no small reputation as a prophet of international affairs. His speech at Boston showed plainly that he agrees with some others who have been saying that the tension between East and West will probably continue for some time and the Western peoples had best get used to it.

As he approached the climax of his speech, Mr. Churchill said again and again that we need to have patience, faith in the strength of our ideals, and the courage to hope for the kind of world we want. Speaking on the question of time he said, "War is not inevitable." Later he said, "We need not abandon hope or patience." And still later came this pointed sentence:

"If however there is to be a war of nerves let us make sure our nerves are strong and are fortified by the deepest convictions of our hearts."

Let us look to our nerves, our hope, and the convictions of our hearts.

THEATRE WITHOUT WALLS

The Army Day schedule in northern Ohio included a televised broadcast of a pretended military invasion from the north, staged by the National Guard. The staff of the television station approached the project with fear and trembling. They remembered the uproar following a radio drama, a few years ago, depicting a fictional invasion from Mars in too realistic a fashion. And they remembered the more violent disaster which overtook a South American radio station recently for a similar error in program judgment.

The station planned frequent interruptions of the broadcast to identify it as make-believe, and supplied plenty of publicity to let people know about the business in advance. Even with such precautions, the presentation of dramatic programs which simulate news broadcasts is such risky business that radio probably will learn, in time, to leave it alone.

The chief trouble with using that kind of treatment for radio drama is that radio, including television, is a theatre without walls.

THE AMERICAN WATCH INDUSTRY

I got interested in the American watch industry when I heard the gossip that the representative of a Swiss company was in Washington lobbying for a higher minimum wage for American workers. Said I to myself: Naturally, if the wages of watchmakers go up in America, it will be a good thing for their only competitor, the Swiss watchmakers. For as it works out, the American payroll already costs about two and one-half as much as the Swiss payroll for the manufacture of the identical commodity. That is, a jeweled watch. So I looked into the picture—and, of course, found that the reciprocal trade agreement hit this industry very hard indeed.

Actually, only three American firms out of 60 remain in this field, Hamilton, Waltham and Elgin. Waltham is in bankruptcy. Bulova does make some watches in the United States, but its principal business is importing them from Switzerland. These figures tell the story:

	Imports	Hamilton, Waltham
1936	2,131,000	1,366,000
1937	2,947,000	1,504,000
1938	3,267,000	1,484,000
1939	5,107,000	885,000
1940	7,609,000	271,000
1941	6,754,000	174,000
1942	8,709,000	618,000
1943	9,039,000	1,124,000
1944	7,357,000	1,552,000

The very low figures for the years from 1942 to 1945 are due to the fact that the American makers were engaged in war work during that period, the sales representing stocks trickling into the market. It was during those years that the Swiss captured the American market.

Walter W. Cenerazzo, national president of the American Watch Workers Union, had this to say in his testimony before a congressional committee: "The problem of the American jeweled watch industry is simple; it's a matter of competitive factors. The Swiss watch importer buys the uncased watch movement in Switzerland and brings it to this country. It costs him on an average of $6.50 for these movements. These are not my figures; these are the figures of the Department of Commerce, which has averaged the cost of the movements imported into this country during the years 1946, 1947, and 1948. These imports pay a duty based upon the ligre, size, and number of jewels, ranging from $1.80 to $2.25. The minimum cost of production on any jeweled movement made in the United States is $13.00. This is a comparable movement as is shipped into the United States for $6.50 from Switzerland. Now, add the duty of $2.10 to this $6.50 and you have a cost of $8.60; subtract the $6.50 from $13.00 and you have an edge of $4.40 per unit. The Swiss watch importer has, over the American jeweled watch manufacturers; and you must remember that some types of movements produced in the United States cost three times that $13.00. Now, what is this $4.40 utilized for? Brand name advertising, principally."

Citing the Bulova Watch Company as the largest importer of Swiss watches, Cenerazzo said: "In 1947, this company in the year ended March 15, 1947, sold approximately 3 million units. Its gross sales totaled $38,000,000. Its net profit was $3,800,000 after taxes and after spending more for radio advertising than any other single product in America. Mind you, not more than any other watch company—more than any other single product in America. Now, with 3,000,000 units, multiply this by the $4.40 cost difference and you have $13,200,000 available to this company that is not available to any American manufacturer for advertising."

In going through the various statements on the subject—and I preferred the printed word rather than emotional interviews—I find nothing notable to contest Mr. Cenerazzo's contentions. The American companies cannot successfully compete against the Swiss and the profit of $13,200,000 in the greater rise of profits of the Swiss companies as compared with the American companies. Nor does the evidence that Waltham was inefficient stand up, if a study is made of unit costs. In fact, they lost the market because they could not afford, out of earnings, to advertise their product adequately in a competitive market.

The United States cannot afford to lose a precision industry. Although it would be nice to make the Swiss rich, it would make more sense to protect American production.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

NORMAL TEMPERATURE VARIES

While it is often of help to have a thermometer in the home, there are two points that should be noted, or the family physician may be called needlessly or fail to be called when he is needed.

The first thought about taking temperature is the time of day, and second is where the thermometer is placed when taking the temperature. Thus, if temperature is taken early in the morning, it may be found normal—that is, 98.6°F. As a matter of fact, a normal temperature before 6 o'clock in the morning means that there is really a rise in temperature as the "normal" temperature at this time is about 97.6.

Normal temperatures in the morning are likely to show 98.6 even 100.6 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Thus, a difference of 1 1/2 to 2 degrees F. is usually found between mornings and afternoons. Therefore, an afternoon temperature of one degree above the normal 98.6 can really be normal. Lowest temperature is found between 4 and 5 a. m., and the highest between 4 and 7 p. m.

While the usual place to take the temperature is in the mouth under the tongue, mouth closed, temperature is also taken in the rectum (lower opening of large bowel), in the armpit and in the groin.

In the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Dr. Khalil G. Wakim, Mayo Clinic, points out that the rectum gives the most accurate result, which is one degree higher than by mouth. The average range of temperature with thermometer in the mouth is 96.7 to 99 degrees; the average is about 98.6°F. The temperature taken in armpit and also in the groin is one degree lower than by mouth. At the rectum it is one degree higher.

The lowest temperature and highest temperature ever taken where the individual continued to live are 75.2°F. and 113°F., respectively. As a matter of fact, temperature below 95°F. and above 107°F. are the usual dangerous limits.

Age also enters into the matter of temperature. In persons of advanced age, the temperature is usually below normal. The body is less active, the circulation feeble, and less able to accommodate itself to changes, high or low, of temperature.

Man is fortunate in being able to regulate his temperature and keep it at normal height despite changes in hot or cold weather.

The patron who walks into a theatre expects to find action inside. But radio is used both for fictional programs and for news reporting and coverage of events actually in progress. The listener who dials into the middle of a program has no way of knowing, except by the technique of presentation, whether he has a program of fact or of fiction.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—The late and lamented 80th Congress was widely publicized as one of the most lobby-ridden in many years and probably deserved that reputation. When it was thrown out of office last November, Democratic leaders announced that the 81st Congress would immediately start an investigation of lobbyists, and to that end conscientious Senator Kilgore introduced a resolution calling for a sweeping probe.

That resolution is still ymymied in the Senate Judiciary Committee where Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, Republican, is stalling a one-man filibuster in the subcommittee.

Meanwhile the new 81st Congress is just about as lobby-ridden as the old—possibly more so. There is one big difference, however. This time the lobbyists have been smarter. They work in disguise. One device is to pressure a few key business friends in a congressman's home district. Another amazing device has just been uncovered.

Most senators and representatives don't realize it, but one of the most adroitly organized lobbies in Washington supplies them with an analysis and summary of pending bills every morning.

What most of the congressmen don't know is that this lobby is financed by some of the most powerful manufacturers in the U.S.A., which means that big business has arranged to have its own watchdogs digest the pending legislation placed on the desks of senators and representatives every morning.

Since congressmen are harassed and busy people, and since it is extremely difficult to keep up with all legislation, it is a great convenience to have legislation summarized and digested. However, any slanting of these digests or any questions asked in the memos accompanying the digests can influence the entire Congress on important issues.

The lobby which concealed this extremely clever way of swaying Congress has adopted the dignified and all-embracing name of the American Enterprise Association. It also hides behind some high-sounding camouflage about being an "educational and non-partisan body."

It tries to be in partial in its work . . . takes no stand either in favor or against proposed legislative measures.

Yet its contributors and officers are some of the most influential big businessmen in the country, most of whom support the militant "National Association of Manufacturers and the Foundation for Economic Education," crusaders against rent control, aid to education, the national health program and other measures which might increase corporation taxes.

The officers include: Lewis H. Brown, board chairman of Johns-Manville; ex-Senator Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts, president of United Carr Fasteners; Robert L. Lund, past president of NAM; Fred A. Poor, president of Poor and Company; and N. Baxter Jackson, president of Chemical Bank and Trust.

Among the more active trustees are Alfred C. Fuller, founder of Fuller Brush Company; Edward H. Little, president of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet; Hughston M. McBain, president of Marshall Field; Henry P. Bristol, president of Bristol-Myers; B. E. Hutchinson, financial chairman of Chrysler; Wilfred Sykes, president of Inland Steel; Thomas Drever, president of American Steel Foundries; and Henry D. Sharpe, president of Brown and Sharpe.

This is the group which every morning interprets legislation for some 500 members of Congress. Inside Joe Martin's Office

Guiding genius on the American Enterprise Association is Guy Wyatt, former advertising sales manager of American Foundry Equipment Co. The Association's Washington representative is Malcolm Hardgrove; formerly with the Irving Trust Company at No. 1 Wall Street.

Hardgrove is not registered as a lobbyist yet he admitted to this column that he visits "twenty to fifty" members of Congress daily. He also seems to be about as skillful at getting his ideas across to Congress and getting information out of Congressmen as anyone in the game.

Among other things Hardgrove pays a Negro in the office of ex-Speaker Joe Martin, named William Patten to slip him material. Patten, when interviewed, admitted slipping material to Hardgrove, but swore it was stuff Martin was "through with." Patten also admitted taking cash for the job but wouldn't say how much.

Other sources indicated that Hardgrove slipped the Negro $200 from time to time and charged it up on his expense account as a "contribution."

This astute, backstage wire-puller also has a close friend in Joe Martin's office who arranges contacts with other Congressmen. He is the ex-speaker's assistant, Jim Milne. When interviewed, Milne said he hardly knew Hardgrove.

"I've met him five or six times," he shrugged. "He came into the office about the first of the year."

"What did he want then?"

"He wanted us to subscribe for the bill handily."

Milne had already mentioned the fact that Joe Martin had been taking the lobby's legislative analyses for some time, so Milne was asked why it was necessary to subscribe again.

"Well," Milne faltered, "Hardgrove wanted to make sure we're renewed."

"And what did he want when he came to see you the other four times?"

"He wanted to make sure we were getting the legislative analyses," Milne alibied.

"You mean to keep coming in just to make sure you're getting the services?"

"Yes," said Martin's assistant, feebly.

Ties With Real Estate Lobby

Actually Hardgrove not only influences Congressional thinking by analyzing pending legislation for Congressmen but writes speeches for them and furnishes them with various material.

He also has secret ties with the real estate lobby through Eddie Carr, former president of the National Association of Home Builders, and used to meet on the q.t. with the real estate committee, made up of Carr, Waverly Taylor, Clark Daniel and Joe Deckman, all big builders.

This group wanted Hardgrove to handle "public relations" against the "Taft housing bill," rent control, slum clearance, etc. However, Hardgrove couldn't afford to get up with the real estate lobby openly and discussed on the sly for the time being through a front man. Later the idea was dropped.

The American Enterprise Association usually plays the Republican side of Congress but it also has been smart enough to woo friends on the Democratic side.

In fact, it has done one of the cleverest jobs this column must have ever seen in many years of keeping check on lobbyists. Perhaps the lobby's Democratic friends are one reason why Senator Kilgore's resolution to probe all lobbying didn't even get out of the Judiciary Committee.

More about the lobby's links with the Democrats will follow in a later column.

So They Say...

Any hope that East-West relations will improve is merely wishful thinking. The men in the Politburo believe that war is absolutely inevitable.

—Victor Kravchenko, author of "I Chose Freedom."

Mankind has always been confronted by a choice between peace and war, but the A-bomb has made that choice "Peace or else."

—Dr. David Bradley, authority on radiation effects of the atom bomb.

I honestly believe that men are basically nicer than women.

—Dress designer Edith Head.

Today all men, regardless of party or creed, advertise themselves as liberals, while conservatism carries overtones of reaction so discrediting that, in political circles, it has become a smear word.

Today in Washington

Time Has Come for Labor and Management to Write New Labor Bill for Submission to Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 11—The time has come for the lion and the lamb to lie down together—for labor and management to write a new labor law and give it to Congress to pass.

It isn't necessary to determine which is the lion and which is the lamb, for each side has now made a sufficient show of strength to earn the right to be considered as strong as the other.

Labor has demonstrated its power by putting a replica of the Wagner Act through both committees of Congress, but may not get any further.

Management has demonstrated through its supporters that it can successfully oppose a restoration of the Wagner Act and force a stalemate if not the passage of a substitute bill.

This could mean that there would be no labor-management legislation at this session of Congress. While that would keep the Taft-Hartley Act in force, it would merely transfer the fight into the 1950 congressional elections. Whoever side won would consider that a mandate had been given to write a more extreme bill than either the Taft-Hartley Act or the Wagner Act.

Writing labor legislation is a highly technical matter, but it can be completely frustrated by emotional considerations and politics.

Top men in labor know what ought to be done and so do top men in industry. They could, if they met privately, strip the whole problem of emotionalism and politics.

There is precedent for such a course. The most successful piece of labor legislation in our history—and it is still on the statute books—was written in the '20's by the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods and by the representatives of the railroads. Congress passed it almost unanimously.

There has been from time to time criticism of some of the adjustments boards created by that law, but it has not been amended in any fundamental respect for many years.

The top men in the American Federation of Labor and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers, could render a great service for the cause of industrial peace and for the continuity of American production in the face of a "cold war" and the international situation of growing autocracy if they worked out a labor-management law that both political parties in Congress would be bound to accept.

To accomplish such a purpose, a set of technicians could be drafted to help—men like William M. Leiserson, who served both on the Railway Mediation Board and on the National Labor Relations Board, or Donald Richberg or Cyrus Ching or Gerard Reilly or J. P. Van Arkel or Paul Herzog. They are all experienced in the field and could be useful advisers.

These are men who could draft legislation once there was an agreement on objectives.

One of the most valuable suggestions has come already from Mr. Leiserson, who has proposed a "closed shop" in what is known as the "agency shop." This provides that a worker may refrain if he likes from joining a union but if he works in a shop where a union is in the majority, the employer must deduct the same dues and assessments for the non-union as for the union member and turn the proceeds over to the union for its use. There is the important note that a "free ride" is given a non-union man when there is no closed shop. Under the new proposal, moreover, no worker is compelled to join any organization against his will and an employer is not required to coerce him into joining a union by threatening discharge.

There are major issues such as the problem of whether or not foremen shall be unionized, and also provisions relating to the use of union treasury funds in campaigns, which can be readily resolved if there really is a will to agree. The injunction issue need not be an insuperable obstacle to agreement.

Surely the demonstration that management and labor leaders can agree would hearten the people and the world and disappoint the Communists who see in our labor-management friction a way to promote economic chaos in America. The suggestion, of course, is not in any respect novel. But it does call for courage by the men and the stimulus of nationwide opinion to assure its accomplishment.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Some time ago, Bill Jordan had loaned me a lot of interesting data of around the 1890 vintage. Perhaps the readers can add their own personal experience of that era. For instance do you remember, around March 1896 when it was said, there was no rope attached to the bell in the Twaills-kill engine house in Wilbur. If a fire broke out in that district the bell could not be rung.

The following may be sure proof that the Esopus Indians did really roam in the Ponckhockie area. An Indian arrow was found a few days ago, (March 26, 1896) at the corner of Crane and Walnut streets by workmen in the employ of the Canfield Stove Co. It was buried in about eight feet of soil.

With the coming of spring comes the eating of shad. April 29, 1897 William Van Vleet and his fishing crew of Port Ewen caught some 197 shad and 1,000 herring. Albert Munson also had a big haul. Who remembers what it was sold for in those days?

James J. Schoeney, April 15, 1897, was having a fine stone walk laid in front of his residence on the corner of Wurts and Spring street, by James Purvis. These bluestone walks were laid up fine through the half a century.

Who remembers Patrick Glancey, the fruit man of First avenue (April 27, 1897) who was running the show for the time being couldn't stand being harnessed to the fruit wagon. He took off without Mr. Glancey. No one was hurt.

In those days, when one bought a new bicycle one made the social column. April 29, 1897 the Misses Edith and Lillian Parish purchased bicycles. A. E. Winne joined the ranks of the devoted to the silent steed. "The bell on the bicycle of C. V. DuBois should be connected with the uptown five alarm system," said one item. Miss Clara Myers has purchased a fine new searchlight for her bicycle. Incidentally tandem bicycles (built for two) could be bought at R. E. Freure's at 46 Broadway. Roundout, prices ranging from $30 to $100. Also M. Oppenheimer & Son received their Columbia tandem. Do any of the readers remember some of their experiences on the good old tandem bicycle?

April 28, 1897. Those were the days when every steady customer in a barber shop had his own shaving mug. Handle-bar mustaches were in vogue, and the newspapers were making fun of the new "spit curls" or "soap curls" which the men had taken on as a tontorial decoration.

At that time, six day bicycle races were popular. A bill was even introduced in the Legislature asking for a rest of at least six hours, to follow each 12 hours of racing. A penalty of a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500 or 30 days to a year in the county jail for breaking of the rule. Bicycles were a serious business in the 1890's!

Turkeys, quail, frogs, snakes, skunks and shrews all eat grasshoppers voraciously.

The Mississippi river has approximately 40 navigable tributaries.

Two Persons Injured In Maple Hill Crash

Two persons were slightly injured when the automobile in which they were riding ran into the rear of another vehicle on Route 32 at Maple Hill, Rosendale, at 10:15 p. m. Saturday, the sheriff's office reported.

Robert Charles Schroder, 20, of 27 South White street, Poughkeepsie, driver of the automobile, and Vivian Farley, 18, of 83

Bridge street, Poughkeepsie, were treated for bruises and cuts. Deputy Sheriff Harry Keator and Dillard Sapp reported.

The Schroder car, traveling towards Kingston, ran into the rear of an automobile driven by Frank Kouhout, 21, of 5 DeWitt street, this city. The deputies reported the Kouhout car had run partly off the road and stopped when the driver was blinded by the headlights of an oncoming automobile, the sheriff's men said.

Nickels have been used as money in the U. S. for 81 years.

by New York State Senator Irving Ives who arranged for the hearing on the matter of the placement of bridge piers in the Hudson river, made necessary by plans for the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

At the meeting Senator Ives presented Congressman Jay LeFevre, who made a presentation of fact, and then Congressman LeFevre presented to the committee James F. Loughran, Kingston member of the New York State Bridge Authority, who in turn presented a statement and was then interrogated by members of the committee.

Are Much Encouraged

Both LeFevre and Loughran were most courteously received by the Appropriations Committee and were much elated over the cooperation offered and presented by the U. S. Army engineers whose functions include granting of authority for erection of any obstructions within navigable waters. Both Congressman LeFevre and Loughran came from the hearing much encouraged.

This morning Loughran said that the engineers of the U. S. Army were "exceedingly cooperative."

In addition to the statements which were presented by Congressman LeFevre and Loughran, maps which had been prepared were submitted and the committee made inquiries relative to the situation.

Reasons cited by Authority member Loughran before the committee included:

The foregoing objections and others could be removed by a re-locating the channel to the East side. As pointed out, to do this would entail a cost substantially the same as the cost of making the present channel adequate and suitable. Numerous additional advantages would be derived by re-locating the channel from the present west side to the east side, such as:

1. A channel of much greater width would be provided so that possibility of damage of vessels passing each other would be obviated in inclement weather.

2. The passage of vessels would be more direct and speedy.

3. Vessels would not be required to stop for high tide before proceeding north.

4. Vessels would not be required to slow down to avoid throwing backwash.

5. Traffic would not be slowed up by numerous tug boats and barges obstructing their passage.

6. The danger of floating brick barges would be completely avoided.

7. The re-location of the channel would make it unnecessary to pass the congested area at the mouth of the Rondout Creek.

8. The re-location of the channel would permit the location of piers for the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge in such a position that they would permit at all times the maximum width for the largest possible channel needed at that point.

The necessity for re-locating the channel to eliminate the disadvantages above described and to create the advantages also described above, has been advocated and supported for many years by the pilots who direct navigation of the vessels using the Hudson river in this vicinity.

This is evidenced by a statement made by a representative of the American Merchant Marine Institute at a hearing held in the Ulster County Court House at Kingston, New York, on the 31st day of August, 1948, as ordered by the Department of the Army, Corps of Engineers, Office of the District Engineer of the New York District and from other information given by the representative of the Marine Institute it further indicated that such a channel re-location as stated and described above would be very desirable from the navigation standpoint and would have the following advantages:

a. It would place the channel directly under the main span of a proposed bridge to be erected between the city of Kingston and the settlement of Rhinebeck.

b. It would provide a straight approach channel upstream and down stream from the bridge, thus eliminating the necessity for vessels to make sharp turns after passing under the bridge.

c. The revised channel would be normal to the bridge, thus utilizing to the maximum degree the horizontal clearance provided.

d. It would provide maximum visibility.

e. The natural channel upstream from the bridge would be wider than the one now in use.

f. It would eliminate the necessity for reducing the speed of the ships because of barges tied up at the brickyards located along the westerly channel.

g. In the event that the authorized project width and depth are increased at some time in the future, it would be less costly to deepen and widen the east channel than the west channel.

CITIZENS AND TAXPAYERS

Here is a representative picture of the actual neighborhood where the Kingston Housing Authority wants to inaugurate a "Slum Clearance" Program.

Taxes, from homes such as these, provide the revenue that runs our city. Do you believe that we can afford to stop further building of this type, anywhere in our city? Contrast the potential tax revenue of this sort against a "deal" that frees buildings from taxation for at (least 50) years—and decide honestly whether we can overburden ourselves with additional taxes!!!

THE COST!!

(FROM "NEW YORK TAXPAYER" JANUARY, 1949)

The Cost of Public Housing

Governor Thomas E. Dewey recently signed three public housing bills. The propositions must be voted upon by the people of the State next November before they can become effective. The first raises the amount of bond issues for public housing construction by $300 million to a total of $735 million. The second increases the annual subsidy from $18 million to $25 million, and the third raises the limit on subsidy payments to be contracted in any one year from $1.5 to $2.5 million.

If these propositions are approved at the general elections this coming fall, the taxpayers of the State will have to contribute more and more to pay part of the cost of public housing so that public housing units may be constructed and RENTED AT LESS THAN COST.

Contributions are paid by the State as a "housing subsidy", a gift to local housing authorities to pay costs which the management would otherwise have to meet by higher rents. AT THE SAME TIME, THE COMMUNITIES WHICH HAVE PUBLIC HOUSING MUST "MATCH" THE STATE SUBSIDY, EITHER BY CASH OR TAX ABATEMENTS. However, before the local and state governments can pay their share of the subsidy, they must first collect the money from the people in taxes.

Merely because there is no separate tax called a "public housing tax" to raise the subsidy funds does not mean that the money comes from some source other than taxes. The state housing subsidy is paid from the state's General Fund. The General Fund consists of money collected through state taxes—income tax, beverage taxes, cigarette tax, automobile taxes and the taxes paid by business which add to the cost every article manufactured or sold in the State.

All of the wage earners and consumers in the State help to pay these taxes which make up the General Fund. Therefore, the wage earners and consumers contribute to every payment out of the General Fund including the payment of state housing subsidies. In addition, they must help subsidize low rental housing, in many cases better than what they themselves own or live in.

AT THE SAME TIME, EACH STATE SUBSIDY DOLLAR MUST BE MATCHED BY A LOCAL SUBSIDY DOLLAR. THE MUNICIPAL SUBSIDY MAY BE WHOLLY OR PARTLY IN THE FORM OF TAX EXEMPTIONS. Yet, the tenants of public housing receive full benefit of local services. Their children attend the public schools, they receive police and fire protection, enjoy paved streets, street cleaning and lighting, parks and playgrounds and the other services provided by the municipality.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE PUBLIC HOUSING SHARE OF THE COST OF THESE SERVICES, AND THE AMOUNT WHICH THE HOUSING PROJECT PAYS IN REAL ESTATE TAXES MUST BE PAID FOR THROUGH TAXES LEVIED ON ALL THE OTHER PROPERTY IN THE MUNICIPALITY. THIS IS THE MUNICIPAL SUBSIDY, WHICH IS PAID BY THE PEOPLE WHO RENT OR OWN PRIVATE PROPERTY.

Since the state law requires that the municipal subsidy must equal the state subsidy, the proposed authorized $25 million annual state subsidy actually means $50 million to be contributed to public housing projects each year.

The time to stop this public housing "pyramid", is next November, when the people exercise their franchise at the polls.

THE FALLACY!!

(FROM THE NEW YORK TAXPAYER, MARCH, 1949)

Fallacy of Public Housing

Past performance exposes the fallacy of the philosophy underlying public housing. It has shown that public housing has eliminated no slums; it has merely congested others. It has provided little or no low rent facilities. It has made no dent in the housing shortage. On the other hand it has contributed to the housing shortage by discouraging private building through raising local taxes, by providing better living quarters in many cases than the taxpayer enjoys, who must pay the subsidy.

And now the State is faced with a new proposal by Governor Dewey to expand public housing funds by another $300 million. The proposal requires sober thought on the part of the legislator who must first approve it, and careful examination by the taxpayer who will vote on the plan at the polls next November.

Total authorized Housing Bonds to date amount to $435 million. Those issued thus far amount to $167,355,000. Those redeemed run to $2,010,000, leaving $104,645,000 in bonds presently outstanding and the sum of $227,445,000 not yet issued.

The Annual Message the Governor stated that since January 1, 1943, the state-aided public housing program has been increased to include 42 projects. Out of this number, only ten are completed and fully occupied. Fourteen are under construction and some partially occupied. Fifteen are as yet to be constructed and four are not yet designed, although approved.

During the period that these ten projects have been completed, the housing subsidy which the State agrees to pay annually to reduce the rents of the people living in them has been increased from the original $5 million to $6,250,000 in 1945, $9 million in 1946 and 13 million in 1947. It is now recommended that it be increased to $25 million annually. THIS AMOUNT MUST BE MATCHED LOCALLY BY SUBSIDY OR TAX ABATEMENT ON ANY PUBLIC HOUSING BUILT. Approval by the people at the next general election will be necessary provided the Legislature passes such a proposition.

AS STATED IN THE PUBLIC HOUSING LAW, "NO STATE SUBSIDY SHALL BE MADE AVAILABLE FOR ANY PROJECT UNLESS AND UNTIL THE MUNICIPALITY IN WHICH SUCH A PROJECT IS SITUATED SHALL CONTRACT OR HAVE CONTRACTED TO MAKE SUBSIDIES TO SUCH PROJECT IN AN AMOUNT AT LEAST EQUAL TO THE

However, the law continues, "that so much of the value of the property included in a state project as represents an increase over the assessed valuation of the real property, both land and improvements, on the date of the contract for a state loan, or, in the absence of a contract for a loan, then on the date of the contract for a state subsidy, shall be exempt from any and all state, county, city, village, town, school and special district taxes. In no event may any municipality or county assess the property included in a project at an amount in excess of the actual cost of the project."

THUS, THE HOUSING LAW IS CONTRASTED TO MEAN THAT COMMUNITIES MUST MATCH THE STATE SUBSIDY BY AN EQUAL AMOUNT, AND ALTHOUGH IT MAY TAKE THE FORM OF A TAX EXEMPTION ON THE GROUND THE BUILDING IS CONSTRUCTED, THERE CAN BE NO RISE IN THE ASSESSMENTS IN REGARD TO IMPROVEMENTS, AND THE BUILDINGS THEMSELVES ARE EXEMPT FROM TAXATION WITH SUCH TAXABLE PROPERTY OFF THE ROLLS, THE TAXPAYER MUST PAY THE DIFFERENCE THROUGH A RISE IN HIS OWN ASSESSMENT OR THROUGH SOME SORT OF NUISANCE TAX TO GAIN SUFFICIENT REVENUE TO RUN THE COMMUNITY.

The State has made available no information about the incomes of persons occupying the housing projects today, but information is sifting out which would indicate that many persons with better than average incomes constitute a large proportion of the tenants. This means that the small and average taxpayer is helping to pay for subsidizing the housing of persons whose incomes are larger than his own.

THE PRESENT COURSE OF THE STATE IS NOT AND WILL NOT SOLVE THE HOUSING PROBLEMS. INSTEAD, IT IS DISCOURAGING PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN HOUSING. THE FULL ATTENTION OF THE STATE SHOULD BE GIVEN TO PROVIDING A FAVORABLE SITUATION FOR THE PRIVATE INVESTOR TO BUILD HOUSING UNITS, AND THAT INCLUDES ENCOURAGING THE SMALL AND AVERAGE TAXPAYER TO BUILD AND POSSESS HIS OWN HOME.

Jones Answers Martin Telegram

Charles L. Jones, director of the Bureau of Technical Development, State Division of Housing, in a letter dated April 8, answering Twelfth Ward Alderman James E. Martin's telegram inquiry to clear a statement of Herman T. Stichman, state commissioner of housing, said that the commissioner quoted from a survey fact sheet in a statement here on tenant eligibility in the proposed local project.

Jones included with the letter received by the local alderman today, a copy of the fact sheet from which he said, the local commissioner said when he spoke at a recent joint meeting of local service clubs.

"The section of the sheet quoted, he said, was that dealing with 'On-site Clearance,' and it read: 'In downtown x section, several blocks in the Ann street area consisting mainly of substandard residences occupied by from 75 to 100 families. It is believed that the majority of families living there may be eligible for the new low rent housing project.'

Up to Local Group

The letter explained, however, that "Under the law, the local housing authority is in charge of the selection of tenants, subject to our regulations, with previous approval being given to eligible tenants of the site which is to be cleared, who meet proper selection standards, and to veterans."

Alderman Martin in his telegram of April 8, said that Arthur A. Davis, Jr., chairman of the local housing authority, stated in The Freeman April 7, that "Commissioner Stichman in an address here created an erroneous impression when he said that between 75 and 100 people would be moved from the Ann street area to the new location."

The telegram to Commissioner Stichman asked for status of authority on this point.

Inflation and Deflation

Inflation seemed to be our worry just a few short weeks ago. Prices were in a dizzy dither. As they watched the prices grow. Meat and lumber . . . pipes and sweaters. Candles . . . linens and kitchen chairs. Justified our writing letters telling Congress our affairs.

Then without a word of warning prices dropped a cent or two. Group flourished every morning. Growing fast . . . as rumors do.

Now we have a mild recession. Work is scarce, the people are. No one feels a real depression. . . . What's the latest news today?

Up and down, are part of living. Even when we're all involved. Buying, selling, taking . . . giving. Daily cares are never solved.

Local Death Record

The remains of Louise H. Hunt, who died in New York city on April 5, arrived in Kingston on Saturday, April 9 and were interred in St. Remy cemetery by A. Carr and Son.

Funeral services for Mrs. Dorothy E. Hults was held from the late residence in Glenrie Friday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Charles Wesley Christman of Saugerties officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge, where the Rev. Mr. Christman gave the committal. Bearers were O. Nitche, B. Cook, C. Kieffer and R. Salty.

Clara F. Nestell, wife of Joseph E. Hendricks, died on Sunday at her residence, 72 Brewster street in Kingston. The only survivors are several nieces and nephews. She was a member of the Fair Street Reformed Church and the Ladies Aid Society and other groups of the church. The funeral will be held from the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street, on Tuesday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Charles J. Hyman, aged 88 years, who formerly resided in this city, where he was very well known died Sunday at the home of his son, Henry, in Newark, N. J. Besides his son, Henry, with whom he made his home, he is survived by two other sons, Andrew and Frederick, and also a brother, Frederick. Burial will be in Wynkoop Cemetery, this city on Wednesday upon arrival of the automobile casket, which is expected at approximately 12 noon.

Funeral services for Albert Pross, husband of Mrs. Mary Genske Pross who was accidentally overcome by gas, at his home 104 Second avenue, Wednesday evening, were held at the Sweet and Keyser Home, 167 Tremper avenue at 2 p. m. The Rev. E. L. Witte, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, of which Mr. Pross was a member, officiated. The services were largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. Burial was in Montrose Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Arthur M. Risenbary was held from the late home, 62 East Chester street, Saturday at 2 p. m., and was in charge of the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter. The services were largely attended by her many relatives and friends. There also was a large number of floral tributes attesting to the high esteem in which she was held. Burial took place in Wiltwyck Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Pontier conducted the committal service.

Ward Buley of Glenford died in Kingston on Saturday, April 9, after a brief illness. He leaves a son, Milton Buley of Canaan, N. H.; two daughters, Mrs. Henry Swelch of Tilton and Mrs. Harry Bush of Cottekill; also two sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Burghy of Mount Tremper and Mrs. Belle Nickle of Saybrook Point, Conn.; also a brother, Everett Buley of West Hurley and five grandchildren. The funeral will be held from the Lasher Funeral Home in Woodstock on Tuesday, April 12, at 1:30 p. m., with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd officiating. Burial will be in Oliverea cemetery.

Commerce Membership Group Meets Tonight

A special meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce membership committee has been called for tonight by Lawrence J. MacAvoy, chairman of the committee. Detailed plans for the membership campaign will be made at this meeting to be held in the chamber office starting at 7:30 p. m.

In accordance with the plan adopted by the board of directors, all Chamber of Commerce memberships become due on May 1. The goal has already been set for 600 members which would provide a budget of $15,000 for the budget year of 1949-50 starting July 1. This is only $1,800 more than the budget of $13,200 within which the chamber is operating for the current budget year.

The directors and committees of the chamber would like to expand the service and activities further if adequate finances can be provided. This will require the need for additional memberships as this is the only source of Chamber of Commerce financing.

Chiefs of Staff Meet

Key West, Fla., April 11.—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson joined Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and the joint chiefs of staff in a week-end conference here. Johnson leaves by plane today for Fort Benning, Ga., where tonight he will meet with a civilian group which has made an orientation tour of naval, air force and army installations. The tour ends for the civilians at Fort Benning. Johnson will make a brief, off-the-record talk at their final gathering.

Compton Is Arrested

John H. Compton, 41, of Woodstock was arrested by sheriff's department men at that village Sunday afternoon on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check. He was committed to the Ulster county jail for hearing at 8 p. m. tonight before justice of the Peace Joseph Fitzsimmons of Woodstock.

New Rent Control Act Is Explained By Director Hoag

In answer to many queries from landlords, Area Rent Director Charles C. Hoag has defined the action to be taken by owners whose rental property is recontrolled or brought under rent control for the first time by the new Rent Control Act.

Rent Control applies now to all rental housing units which were previously decontrolled because they were not rented for any successive 24-month period between February 1, 1945 and March 30, 1948. Landlords have until April 30 to register any of these units which were never under rent control. Previously registered units need not be re-registered, but the owners are advised to show the registration statements to the present tenant. The landlord cannot charge more than the maximum shown in the registration statement, plus or minus approved adjustments.

Landlords may obtain assistance in preparing registration statements at the local rent office located at 13 Washington street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The registration forms will be mailed out on written request or by a call to Poughkeepsie 4700.

Also recontrolled are all accommodations which were decontrolled because a 1947 voluntary rent increase lease was terminated prior to April 1, 1948. These are now recontrolled at their old lease rent. In the City of Middletown, however, the maximum rent will be the lease rent or the pre-lease maximum rent plus the over-all rent increase, whichever is higher. The landlord must file a report of termination statement with the area rent office by April 15, unless he has previously filed such a report. Accommodations covered by leases which expired or terminated on or after April 1, 1948 have been and still are subject to rent control.

Trailer and trailer spaces which on April 1, 1949 were not used exclusively for transient occupancy, are again subject to rent control. A trailer or trailer space is considered to have been used exclusively for transient occupancy on April 1, if it was rented on a daily basis to a tenant and then only if the tenant had not been in continuous occupancy since March 1, 1949. Hereafter, rents or fees for increased services on recontrolled units may be charged only on order of the area rent director.

The rental rate for recontrolled trailer accommodations will be the last maximum rent in effect under federal rent control, which was not later than January 4, 1948. Any trailer unit which did not have a maximum rent in effect on or before January 4, 1948, must be registered with the area rent office by April 30, 1948, at the rent first charged after January 4, 1948.

The Alligerville-Kyserike Home Bureau unit held its third lesson on children's clothing Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Neff.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—Why do most people who seek to win cash on radio quiz programs say they need money for?

"Illness in their family—that is the number one problem," said Todd Russell, who has questioned thousands of contestants in the last five years.

"And until recently money for better housing ran a very close second."

Russell, a tall, handsome curly-haired Canadian, is currently master of ceremony on "Strike It Rich," a C.B.S. show. Each contestant on the show is given $25 to start and can win up to $800 by betting on his ability to answer a series of five questions successfully.

Contestants are screened in advance on the basis of their actual need—and the nature of the project for which they want cash.

"Some, of course, are phonies and showoffs," said Russell. "But the overwhelming majority are people who have a worthwhile reason. A surprising number don't want anything for themselves."

Women Think of Homes

"With women it is usually a question of needing money to do something around the house or to aid some member of their family. With men it is more on a personal basis. What they want usually costs more, too. Often they want money to start a business."

Russell has found that men fare better generally than women, partly because they appear to have more general information and partly because "they are less nervous before the microphone."

Because you "can't always throw sorrow into people's ears," some contestants are chosen each week on the basis of the oddity of their reasons for wanting moolah. Such as the man with the amorous bull.

"He was a New Jersey farmer whose bull kept breaking through wooden fences to make social calls on cows in the next pasture," explained Russell. "And he won what he wanted—enough to buy an electrified fence to keep his bull at home."

Some others: A frustrated city bachelor wanted to journey to Newfoundland and become a hermit. Two husbandless office girls in Washington, D. C., sought transportation money to go to Alaska, where they figured the ratio of men-to-women was more in their favor. Alas—they lost.

Just Wanted To Leaf

A young ex-soldier, living in a Massachusetts town, just thought it would be nice to have enough dough to leaf a while.

"He missed out" because he couldn't give the name of the first Indian to welcome the Pilgrims," laughed Russell. "Then it turned out that there was a statute to the Indian—Samoset—in his own town. He passed the statue every day going to work. Probably still does."

A few contestants, after winning enough money to achieve their purpose, risk it by gambling for more.

"This always annoys the audience—it seems to them like cheating," Russell said. "One woman told us she needed $100 to buy a set of false teeth."

"But she didn't stop at $100. She got up to $325."

Of that she decided to bet $300 on the last question. But she fell on her face and ended up with only $25."

One woman tried to win enough to pay for an operation to stop intermittent attacks of hiccups she

Deafened People May Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltone, Dept. 6, 1450 West 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. had suffered for three years. She failed.

"But a doctor who heard of the case did the operation for free," said Russell. "She was happy—but her husband was even more grateful. He said her hiccups were making him a nervous wreck."

Writes its Owner's Biography!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

It seems safe to say that there is no material possession which speaks more eloquently of the man who owns it than a Cadillac car.

Wherever it is driven, it offers authentic testimony as to its owner's good taste—his concern for the safety and comfort of his family and friends—and his general standing in the field of endeavor in which he has chosen to make his contribution to the world's affairs.

Indeed, if a complete list were published of those who own and drive this distinguished car—it would be obvious that it has become a hallmark of achievement in almost every walk of life.

That this should have happened is entirely logical—for Cadillac cars have been built, for almost half a century, to the most uncompromising standards of excellence. As a result, Cadillac stands alone in all the things that make a motor car a distinction to possess and a pleasure to utilize.

The 1949 Cadillac is the grandest of them all, in every way. Why not visit our showrooms and see for yourself?

Tammany Leaders Meet on Choice of Bloom Successor

New York, April 11 (AP)—Leaders of Tammany Hall met late today to reach agreement on a Democratic organization choice for a congressional seat sought by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

The late president's son has some backing in Tammany Hall, but Municipal Court Justice Benjamin Shalleck was considered a likely choice of the Tammany chiefs. Several other aspirants are in the field.

Roosevelt has said that if he does not get the Democratic nomination he will run on a new "Four Freedoms" party ticket at the special election set for May 17.

Much of the opposition to Roosevelt is based on the fact he lives outside the 20th Congressional District, on Manhattan's west side, where he seeks the seat of the late Sol Bloom, Democrat.

Poultry Sales Show Increase Over 1947

Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—Sales of poultry and eggs from New York farms totaled $139,809,000 last year, a 14 per cent increase over 1947.

In addition, the State Agriculture Department reported today, farm home consumption of these products was valued at $14,811,000.

The department said the volume of chickens sold amounted to 77,685 pounds and farm home consumption was 13,240,000 pounds.

Egg sales totaled 189,800,000 dozen and 16,400,000 dozen were consumed in farm households.

crat, who died a month ago.

Roosevelt, who says he is a "party Democrat" and supporter of the "Fair Deal," has been a resident of Westbury, Long Island, but is moving into the 20th district.

Support of Roosevelt by New York state's Liberal party has been promised. Murray Baron, the party's New York county (Manhattan) chairman, said last night that Roosevelt was endorsed for the nomination during the week-end by two of the four Liberal party clubs in the 20th district. Baron said the other two clubs will endorse Roosevelt today and tomorrow.

The Liberal party's County Executive Committee will act on the nomination Wednesday. The party supported President Truman last fall.

Support for Roosevelt came from Frank C. Walker, former Democratic national chairman, who sent a letter offering him "very best wishes for your success."

Republican leaders are scheduled to meet tomorrow to name the organization choice for the nomination. The American Labor party also is expected to name its choice tomorrow.

ROSENDALE

J. M. Fitzpatrick Dies

New York, April 11 (AP)—James M. Fitzpatrick, 79, who served as Democratic representative in Congress from 1927 to 1945, died yesterday.

A native of West Stockbridge, Mass., he came to New York city as a youth, and soon was active in Bronx politics. He was elected to the board of aldermen three times before being sent to Congress in the election of 1926. He represented the old 24th New York district, comprising the upper Bronx and part of Westchester county. He served on the House Appropriations Committee.

President Became Chief Executive Four Years Ago

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Four years ago tomorrow, April 12, Harry S. Truman became President when President Roosevelt died.

What has he done in those four years, and what has happened to him, us, and the world?

No man who ever became President had to shoulder so many responsibilities so suddenly.

His four years have been years of climaxes, increasing tensions, prosperity, and preparation against war.

When he moved into the White House, war with Germany was ending. Japan was soon to be crushed with the atom bomb, an event that changed world history.

The United Nations was created in the hope it might keep peace. Four years have shown its failure.

And in his first few months in office, the United States had to be set spinning back into peacetime ways. It was done with jolts and jerks.

War-time controls were ripped off, some too fast. Strikes erupted, holding up peacetime goods.

The mood in Congress, as the months passed, was to ditch price controls, let prices run free. Mr. Truman warned against it.

His own Democrats were in control of Congress but, spearheaded by the Republicans, they cut the legs from under O.P.A. It soon died.

Prices shot through the roof, bringing the country a great inflation. They're still sky-high, may be coming down a bit now.

Never Patched Up

Mr. Truman had tried a honeymoon with Congress in his early days as President. But that ended in a bust and never has been patched up.

Voters, fed up with the Democrats, gave the Republicans control in 1946. It was Mr. Truman's worst defeat.

He reversed that in 1948 with his own election, biggest surprise in American political history. And the Democrats' won control of Congress again.

But Congress doesn't seem to be paying much attention to his wishes, at least for things at home.

Long ago he had made it plain he wants to carry on Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal. He has used the name, the Fair Deal.

He's made almost no progress with that in four years. There's no assurance he'll make much more in the next four.

Yet, in spite of his difficulties with Congress, Americans are making more money than ever before.

fore. The land is rich, teeming with money, goods, and food.

Down the Spout

But meanwhile the skies have darkened beyond the shores. His hopes of getting along with Russia have gone down the drain.

As he watched the Russians swallow eastern Europe, his mood hardened. He set up the Truman Doctrine: A policy of blocking Russia wherever it tries to make a thrust.

Under that policy we've helped Greece and Turkey, created the Marshall plan for helping western Europe, and now we've entered the Atlantic Pact with western Europe to stop Russia with steel if need be.

We've put so much money into military preparations and stopping Russia, all of which mean jobs and production here, it's a question of whether we could afford sudden good relations with Russia.

For that would mean cutting billions upon billions off our defense spending. And what would that do to jobs and production and prosperity here at home?

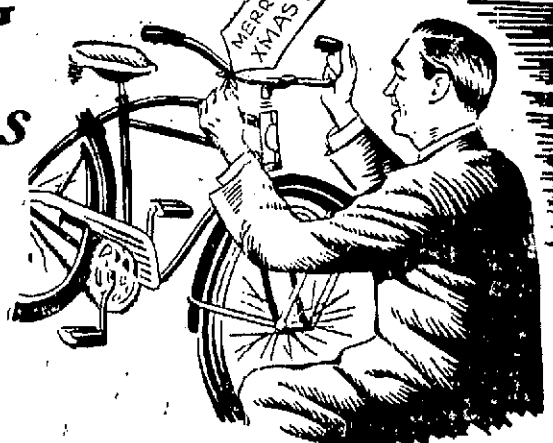

As Mr. Truman goes into his fifth year in the White House, only four years away from World War II, the air is full of talk of new war. Where we go, no one knows, not even Mr. Truman.

Harold Doppel Marries

Kathleen Ellen Chisholm New Paltz, April 9—Miss Kathleen Ellen Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm, Poughkeepsie, became the bride of Harold William Doppel Sunday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Doppel of Manchester Road. The ceremony took place in the First Congregational Church, Poughkeepsie. The Rev. Dr. Philip Allen Swartz officiated. Dr. Charles Gilbert Spross played the nuptial music. Calla lilies, snapdragons and carnations were used in the church decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white marquisette gown trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was caught to a headpiece of seed pearls and she carried white roses and gardenias. Mrs. Gerard Freylich, matron of honor, wore a lavender marquisette gown with matching satin halo and carried tulle roses.

Mr. Freylich was best man. Norman Stairs was usher. A reception was held at Memory Inn. The couple left for Endicott where they will make their home at 1603 Riverview Drive. For traveling the bride wore a navy suit with plaid topper.

Mrs. Doppel was graduated from Poughkeepsie High School and attended New Paltz State Teachers College for a year and a half. She has been employed in the office of the Wallace Company. Mr. Doppel, an alumnus of Arlington High School, served in the Marine Corps in the Pacific area for four years. He is studying for his engineering degree at Endicott.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children, Are People," etc.)

RUDENESS OF PRINTED "THANK-YOU" CARD

A bride-to-be tells me that my book, "Etiquette," gives no examples of the engraved thank-you card that she wishes to send for the presents she already is beginning to receive.

There are no such examples in my book because referees lack of appreciation possibly could be shown to the sender of a wedding gift. The least a bride can do is to write a personal note of thanks for every present received—unless she goes to thank a giver personally.

Protestant at Catholic Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: Just what is the correct behavior for a Protestant at a Catholic church wedding? Should she remain seated the entire time or should she try to do as the Catholics do? I have been told to sit still during the service but I think I would look very conspicuous sitting while others are standing or kneeling.

Answer: You should do as others do insofar as you are able to.

Stepmother Question

Dear Mrs. Post: We're having a disagreement over a subject that we'd like to have you settle. My ex-husband has remarried and I say his new wife is our stepmother. My friends say this new wife is nothing to the boy unless I die and then she becomes his stepmother. Which of us is correct?

Answer: You are. The present wife of his father is his stepmother.

Naming Sunday School Class

Dear Mrs. Post: We'd like to name our Sunday School class in honor of a former teacher. Should it be the Alicia Rand Class or just Alicia Rand Class.

Answer: The Alicia Rand Class.

"Model Notes," E-21, is a new leaflet written by Mrs. Post which contains "thank-you" notes for gifts; "bread and butter" notes, and notes of condolence. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. ### Tickets on Sale For Marionette Show Next Week

The Peggy Bridge Marionette and Magician Show will be presented to the children of the city at Kingston High School Auditorium Tuesday, April 19, under the auspices of Junior League of Kingston. This show proved popular for all age groups last year. Tickets are on sale at all of the schools.

Two performances are planned, the first at 10:30 a. m. "Jack and the Beanstalk," for kindergarten and up to third grade children; and the second at 2:30 p. m. "Kiddnaped" for fourth grade and up.

Arrangements for the show were completed at the annual meeting of Junior League last week at the home of Mrs. Terry Staples in Saugerties. Mrs. Louis Hurley was co-hostess.

Mrs. Mortimer Downer, who has been the league's president for two years, reviewed the year's work and called upon the committee chairmen for their annual reports. The report of the placement chairman spoke of the various volunteer jobs which League members had done and of the several organizations with which they had worked. After these reports, Mrs. Downer turned the meeting over to Mrs. William Hilton, the new president.

Plans for the coming year were discussed. Mrs. Downer reported on the "Recreation Institute" which the league is planning in the fall. A professional in the field of planning recreation will give a three day course in Kingston. Members felt they needed more training to enable them to give better service at the classes which they conduct at the Downtown Recreation Center.

Students Picket College

New York, April 11 (AP)—Twenty-five demonstrators were taken into custody today as some 400 students of the College of the City of New York picketed their campus. The students demanded suspension of two faculty members whom they accuse of anti-semitism. Nine of the arrested students, five women and four men, were charged with disorderly conduct. No charges were placed immediately against the others. Police said they were arrested because they refused to move away from the main college entrance.

Osborn Critically Ill

Poulan, Ga., April 11 (AP)—Michigan's elderly former governor Chase S. Osborn, who rose from a sickbed Saturday to marry his adopted daughter, remained in a critical condition today. His doctor, J. J. Crumley, said yesterday the 89-year-old friend of nine presidents was near death. A few hours later, however, he reported Osborn had made another of his amazing rallies and was resting comfortably. Crumley said the aged philanthropist made a miraculous response to a blood plasma transfusion and a glucose injection. But he added Osborn still is in grave condition.

During the short business meeting it was decided to hold a social meeting for the regular monthly meeting in May. Mrs. L. D. Barker was appointed to supervise a program. Mrs. William Webster and Mrs. William Coulant were appointed to arrange refreshments. At this May meeting the new officers will be installed. Officers elected for the coming year were as follows: Mrs. Clifford Davis, Jr., president; Mrs. William Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. John Houghtall, secretary; Mrs. William Coulant, treasurer. At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. William Anderson gave an interesting and informative talk on flower arrangements. She explained the various principles of color, line, and design in arranging flowers. She also spoke about containers in relation to the flowers and the place to be used. She illustrated her lesson with seasonal garden flowers and florist flowers.

Plans to Publish Paper
New York, April 11 (AP)—Clintenden J. Ryan, multi-millionaire self-styled political reformer, plans to publish a weekly newspaper to help fight what he calls "sinister forces" eating at the heart of American life. "The Guardian," will "cover generally newspaper, named 'The Public Guardian,' will 'cover generally the national and international fields as well as the present campaign in New York city," Ryan said yesterday. Ryan is a leader in a movement seeking a fus on ticket to oppose Democratic Mayor William O'Dwyer if—as expected—he runs for re-election next fall.

Jake's Last Roundup

By Jake Chichelsky

1948-49 was a colossal season in Kingston bowling history but it was only the beginning. The advent of the Bowlodrome and Bowlatorium will boost local interest to an all-time high next season. We have been asked to list our nominations for the highlights of the season. We'll do the best we can.

A Modern Bowling Palace:

The grand opening of Johnny Ferraro's Bowlodrome on January 14 and the informal opening of Ruzzo's Bowlatorium were brilliant spectacles. Joe Wilman, former national match game champion, entertained at the Bowlodrome and there were a host of sports celebrities, including Sid Gordon, home run star of the New York Giants. Wilman showed us the smoothest delivery of any big-time star, including Tony Sparano. The grand opening of the Bowlatorium in June will throw open to the public one of the most palatial establishments in all the realm of bowling.

Highlights and Sidelights:

Outstanding individual achievement was Larry Weishaupt's "300" and 725 in the Hudson Valley League, the first perfect score ever recorded in that fast travelling circuit. Five other keggers—Johnny Ferraro, Randy Kelder, Harry Wilber, Don Vogel and George Robinson—hit for the coveted 700. Clifton Quick was well on his way when he totaled 681 in the Major League. Top bowling find of the season was Edward "Hop" Robinson, who came from out of nowhere to roll a stack of 600 series, Herb and Earl Slight pounded out phenomenal totals on the Y drives. Kingston successes in the A.B.C. at Atlantic City were singularly undistinguished. Nobody could get hot. Johnny Ferraro and "Boots" Leskie crashed 600 in the singles.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Late season exhibitions at the Bowlodrome brought to Kingston such powerhouses as Brockton, Mass.; Faber Cement Blocks, A.P. Bowl-O-Drome and Marcel Products, three Jersey counties that made excellent showings. Eddie Gass, Pete Kowalski, Coc Hart were great bowlers who pleased huge crowds. The Kingston lineup for these matches was Johnny Ferraro, Larry Weishaupt, Charlie Tiano, John Schatzel, Fred Ulen and Harold Broskie. This unit is expected to stay intact for 1949-50 under a heavy sponsorship. There should be some real pinning for Hudson Valley and Saturday night rosters next season. Biggest blow of the late season was Bob Hanley's retirement. But nobody believed Bob.

Best Road Bowler of the Year—Dick Howard.

Of Men and Mice:

Dot Rawling and Reta Frederick were the female sensations of the season, although nobody seriously challenged Mrs. Rose Schatzel up to the time she retired to await the blessed event. Evelyn Gross, the instructor at the Bowlatorium, held her No. 2 spot. Kenny Radel and Jim Pruden were like two peas in a pod, the Damon and Pythias combination of local bowling. They backed the wrong horse twice—Town Cafe and Dobler's but they were in there pinning. And when the Class B doubles in the city tournament, the once-in-a-while low average bowler who steals the spotlight was Jim Cave, who shot a phenomenal 2000 all-events in the city tournament. A 126-average bowler, he shot 533-503-433—plus 531 pins handicap for 2200.

The bowling news wasn't all good. Tommy Beardi, a topnotch bowler in the City Minor League, was the victim of a tragic accident.

Addendum and Distaffs:

Women flocked to the alleys in large numbers. The K.W.B.A., through Reta Frederick, is making a powerful bid for the 1950 state women's meet. Much credit is due her and her various committees. With a late season spurt, Marge Janson earned herself the sobriquet of "Titan Tigress" whatever the sports end, means by that. Beverly Maricle's 265 was top female solo of the season. Safford and Scudler's breezed to the city title.

Ray Nadal's untimely death came as a great shock to bowling circles and sports fans in general. He was an enthusiastic bowling and basketball sponsor and one of the most sports-minded citizens in the community. He was a conspicuous figure at every sports event in Kingston and his devotion to K.H.S. basketball was overwhelming. The whole realm of sports in Kingston will miss him.

Sammy Snead's Hot Putter Brings Brilliant Victory in Masters

Postpone Y Cages Playoffs

The Y.M.C.A. Basketball League Shuaghonway playoff scheduled for Tuesday has been postponed to April 19 because of the death of Ramon Nadal, sponsor of the Wiltwyck Motor team. The two winners will play the finals on Thursday, April 21.

The Yale University swimming team successfully retained its eastern intercollegiate swimming league championship this year.

Slammin' Sammy Has 282 Total

Augusta, Ga., April 11 (AP)—Sammy Snead, who found the gold of the Masters with a brilliant putter, had the best name in golf today as the touring professionals moved toward the high points of the year—the P.G.A. and the Open.

Sammy, the out drivingest hitter in golf, steadied his putter yesterday and came home with a 67 in the final round of the Masters. That five-under par shooting at the Augusta National matched his third round score and added with other rounds of 73 and 75 gave him a 282.

It was more than enough to win from Lloyd Mangrum and Johnny Bulla with their 285's. In their final trips around the national, Mangrum, the Purple Heart veteran of Niles, Ill., had 70, and Bulla, the one-time airline pilot from Pittsburgh, had a 79.

Pulmer Fades
The third round leader—Big Johnny Pulmer of Badin, N. C.—could not whip par and his final 72 gave him a 286. Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., and the Turnesa golfing family had a 286.

One of the great comebacks of the 13th Masters was by former National Open champion Lew Worshum. The Oakmont, Pennsylvania, star, shot a 68 in the final round for a 280 total. Worshum began the Masters with a damaging 76 and 75.

Hollywood's Joe Kirkwood, Jr., son of the trick shot golfer, was eight strokes back of Snead with a 290 after his three-way tie for second place in the third day.

Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., and Byron Nelson of Rocklake, Texas, had 292's. The defending champion Claude Harmon and Herman Kelsier, another former Masters' winner, scored 293's.

About 14,000 golf fans turned out for the final day, and most of them came home with Snead. The news of his three under par front nine spread above the 6,900 yard National and the conversation was on Snead. His front nine shooting was four birdies, a one-over par hole and the rest pars.

Owner Fred W. Hooper's two-year-old horse, Dizzy, is named for Jerome Herman Dean, Hooper's golfing companion and a baseball immortal.

Local Ace Gets Several Awards

Larry Weishaupt, Kingston's young bowling ace, who hit the first 300 score in Hudson Valley League history this season was showered with awards and cash last night at the 11th annual banquet of the travelling league in Middletown.

Nearly 200 persons attended the function at Frank's Tavern.

Weishaupt received the American Bowling Congress and Middletown Bowling Association awards, $15 in cash from the league for his 300 and 725 and $50 in cash from John Sangi, proprietor of the Central Recreation alleys.

Retiring president Pete Perrino of Middletown opened the banquet and Charles Grasse, veteran Port Jervis kegler, was the toastmaster.

Speakers included Mayor Sam Mitchell of Middletown who made the M.B.A. presentation to Weishaupt; and Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor who presented the championship trophy to the Middletown Bennett Roofers.

Toastmaster Grassey introduced several notable bowling figures including Addison Jones of Kingston, founder and first president of the league; Brown Hunter, former Middletown State Hospital star; Bert Rhea of Poughkeepsie; John Nania of Middletown and others.

Mulqueen President

Mike Mulqueen of Walden was elected president for the 1949-50 season. Charles Grassey of Port Jervis was named vice-president, while Everett D. Gordon of Newburgh retained his post as secretary-treasurer.

Frank Bennett, sponsor of the Bennett Roofers, was presented with the championship trophy of the league and the A.B.C. merit certificate.

Members of the squad were Bert Zimmer Jr., Captain; Wayne Scott; Art Koepke, Ralph Clark, John Ellis and Ziggy Dembeck.

Roofers Win $198

The Roofers won $198 in prize money for first place in Kingston. They pulled down $163.50 for second place. Others in the money were Newburgh's Cy's Diner, $145.50; Poughkeepsie Carpenters $122.50; Napanoch Shanleys $121. Kingston Wiltwycks $105; Middletown Frank's $92; Poughkeepsie Fogg-Nash $78.

Tony Mack of Newburgh won $20 for high average of 200 and $10 for a 729 strike. Cy's Diner earned $10 for high single and Wiltwyck Motors $15 for 3174.

Others in the high average money were John Ferraro $15 for 199; Nick Leese, Newburgh, $10 for 196; and Larry Weishaupt, Kingston $5 for 195.

Ferraro Pinboys Trip Bowlatorium

The Ferraro Bowlodrome pinboys blasted 2571 to defeat the Bowlatorium pinsetters by 166 pins in a return match Saturday at the Bowlatorium. The Ruzzo pinboys won the opener of the series at the Bowlodrome.

J. Bell fashioned a 203-556 as Ferraro's rolled 903, 828 and 840. Individual star of the match was G. Shufeldt of Ruzzo's with 225-568.

The teams broke even in the and John Ruzzo won by five pins over John Ferraro Jr. and W. Hamilton. J. Bell and Pete Tiano of the Bowlodrome won over J. Milano and G. Shufeldt by 14 sticks.

Colonial Stars Sign Contracts

Harry Petty, left, and Johnny Elenchin, right, have returned signed contracts to the Kingston Colonials, club president Ted Laviano announced today. Both are expected to play an important role in Kingston's bid for the 1949 Colonial League pennant.

Elenchin had a bad season in 1948, batting only .222 but was tied for second in stolen bases and number of bases on balls. Elenchin will have to hit this year since Laviano is determined to have only 300 hitters in the outfield. Petty, a veteran right hander, won 13 and lost 8 last season. He was second to Danny Rourke in winning percentages, since Danny won 6 and lost 1, but he did post the most wins for the Colonials.

Bowling

Still on a hot streak, Frank "Jackpot" Norman, one of the heroes of the recent city championships, posted 201-188-180-578 to pace the Nocando League last week.

Second place honors went to Harry Elenchin with 163-177-120-560. Percy Slover had 200-557; B. S. Burr 549; Joe Magnino 547; John Frederick 529; Don Koepke 209-526.

Also Rudy Kubicek 514, George Dittmar 207-504; Emil Bosnesek 493; Les Ferguson 489; Rahih Harper 488, Palmer Brodhead 487.

Jim Pruden, the smaller half of the Gold Dust Twins of bowling, paced the Central Rec Mixed League last night with 171-246-145-562 last. The performance drew a round of applause from his alter ego, Ken Radel, who had 489.

Best scores included John Lowe, 527, Orv Van Alstyne's 560, Evelyn Francis 517, Joe Enright 482, Milt Cole 208-543, Jim Daniels 506, John Frederick 475, Mary Bonacci 499 and Reta Frederick 213-514.

Fast-balling Bill Murray was steady with 211-189-155-595 for top honors in the Ferraro Mixed circuit last night at the Bowlodrome.

Other prime efforts featured J. Bechtold's 492, Bill Rappaport's 520, Mabel Dunn's 484, Patsy Nag 502, Ralph Dumenigo 485, Len Freer 491, Tess Moss 471, George Fleming 508 and 221-200-567, Tess Moss 494, Ed Ougheltree 204-487.

The old boy still has a kick left. Seventy-two year old John Raible knocked off a 600 triple in the Y Mercantile League Friday night with scores of 243, 179 and 178.

It was one of his top efforts of the season.

Ernie Magnusson hit 511, Herm Seelbach 500, Pete Jordan 500, Rowland 201-528, Eddie Marks 522, Leo Everett

ABC Meet Ends; Team Score 2665 Still in Money

Atlantic City, N. J., April 11 (AP)—The 48th annual American Bowling Congress tournament was history today—but not history-making.

The some 30,000 bowlers who punished the pins of 46 alleys for 37 days and nights fell far short of record performances. None broke into the first five of the all-time standings in any event.

The top prize winners were:

Singles—Bernard Rusche of St. Bernard, Ohio, 710.

Doubles—Donald Van Boxel of Green Bay, Wis., and Gene Bernhardt of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., 1332.

All Events—John Small of Chicago, 1941.

Five-Man Team—Jimmie Smiths of South Bend, Ind., 3027.

The all-time leading scores in the divisions are: Singles, 774; doubles, 1415; all events, 2070, and team, 2214.

Jimmie Smith's five-man contingent of John A. Nemeth, Harold Kelly, Herley Luckey, Joe Czizany and Pete Tatum came close to the select group—only 207 pins off the record figure.

The low scoring was blamed on several factors, including dust-free atmosphere and war-developed alley finish.

The tournament will be staged next year in Indianapolis.

Low scores to cash in the four events unofficially were: Singles 560, doubles 1078, all events 1690 and team 2665.

Chez Emile Hits 2901 in JA Meet

Chez Emile registers of the Central Rec League pounded out a 2901 series in the Journal-American Tournament in New York City. The total is expected to bring them a slice of the prize million.

Stan Colvin's 258 solo and 580 series were the highlights of the trip. The Chez Emile Booster squad clicked for 2830.

The top team had a 414-pin handicap and rolled gross scores of 946, 1008 and 947. Carl Lundquist furnished 525 and Allen Hoy 517. Werner Senor's 508 was high for the Boosters.

The scores:

Esopus Sportsmen Plan Big Meeting

The Esopus Township Sportsmen's Club will hold an important meeting at the Town of Esopus auditorium on Wednesday, April 13, president Walter Joseph announced today.

The committees on arrangements will present the schedule for spring and summer activities. One of the features will be a new target range for all types of shooting.

President Joseph urges a large attendance as many interesting features will be introduced at the meeting.

New York, April 11 (AP)—The total pledged for the Damon Runyon Memorial Cancer Fund through comedian Milton Berle's 16-hour television appeal may be almost $1,250,000. The National Broadcasting Company said the compilation had reached $1,010,401 last night, and telegraphed pledges still were pouring in. NBC said final figures might be in today.

An estimated 10,000,000 persons saw and heard the show broadcast by stations in 12 cities from Boston to Washington to St. Louis.

Connelly Issues . . .

the city of Kingston because of subdivision 3 of Section 72 of the Public Housing Law.

"Should the authority or municipality fail to make payment of interest or principal upon any due date, the state comptroller may deduct and retain from any moneys otherwise payable by the state to such authority or municipality, the amount of such interest and principal and credit such authority or municipality with the amount of such deduction."

No Objection Seen

I cannot see anything objectionable with this provision of the statute. It is designed to prevent a city from diverting income from rents to general city purposes. In view of the low rents and of the state subsidy, it is no hazard to the financial structure of our city but does give the state proper protection on its loan.

Housing Needed Badly

Others who oppose any project whatsoever go so far as to say that there is in fact no housing shortage in the City of Kingston. Such argument shows a complete lack of information on the frequent plight of tenants in our city, who are dispossessed and have the task of finding a new place to live.

Every day Mayor Newkirk receives calls from veterans who want to get into the Roosevelt Park project, and at the present time more than 60 veterans and their families are waiting to get into that project.

Others take the position but that it can be remedied by the remodeling and reconstruction of old dwellings in the Rondout area. This might be a good job for private enterprise, but when over a million dollars of the taxpayers money is being invested it should be invested wisely, which would be new construction.

Some argue that there are hidden costs in any project which must be considered. It is true that if a block in the Ann street area is ultimately demolished approximately $21,600 will be taken off the assessment rolls until the land is devoted again to some taxable purpose. It is equally true that if a project is built anywhere in the city and not taxable, the same land might have been built on some time in the future by private construction and new assessments added. It is my opinion, however, that the new project is so desirable it is worth these possible costs.

Facilities Exist

An argument along the same lines is that the city would have to furnish water and sewer lines to the project. I am advised that one of the reasons for the selection of the proposed site is because these facilities already exist in Miller's Lane.

Others opposed to it say that what is to be done is to transplant people from an area from which they do not want to move to an area where they are not wanted. This is a misconception. Under the law a certain amount of sub-standard housing must be demolished and I am advised that within two years of the completion of the project 27 units in the Ann street area are to be taken down. None of those people will be forced to take up residence in the new project. What will undoubtedly happen is that many of them will move into places vacated by others who have moved into one of the 100 units in the new project. Those who desire to go into the new project and meet the requirements of the local housing authority will go into the new project.

Veterans Chief Beneficiaries

In making admissions to the new project, the city and state will of course have in mind the substantial investment that they are charged with protecting. It seems to me that the real and chief beneficiaries of the new project are: veterans, who have a preference.

With respect to those who are not opposed in principle but only to the proposed site, it is to be conceded at the outset that there are many beautiful and well kept properties in the vicinity of Miller's Lane, which the owners have every reason to be proud of and to preserve and protect. The assumption, however, that the proposed project will ruin and deprecate properties in the neighborhood is not a valid one. The new project is of substantial brick construction, with an attractive garden type layout and with plenty of land around it. The proposed cost itself indicates that it will be a structure of which no one need be ashamed.

The story on the street, which I have been told many, many times is that the people who will move into the project will not be a credit to the neighborhood. Because people are low in income, whether they be veteran or not, is no reflection on their character, habits, cleanliness or worth as a citizen. There is such a thing as fate; as opportunity; as luck; as better advantages in education, health and aptitudes. Our economic system is vast and complex, and all of us are little more than corks bobbing on the troubled seas. It is a legitimate aspiration of government to aid its citizens in the struggle for social justice, whether it be in housing or in some other field.

Some people in the neighborhood of Miller's Lane argue that the new project would over-tax the existing school facilities. As a senior president in the granting of the approval by the state for the proposed site, the local Board of Education certified to the state that school facilities were sufficient. The Board of Education had no axe to grind one way or the other. It has the respect of the community because through the years its members on controversial questions have not immediately lined up according to political affiliation but have disregarded them in arriving at a common solution of its problems. I am informed that the seventh grade in all schools will go to the M.J.M. School in September, and this is one reason why the Board of Education felt the facilities of school No. 7 were sufficient. It is argued also by opponents of the project that the 12th Ward is the fastest growing ward in the city and the additional building of private homes in itself will make School No. 7 inadequate. It seems to me this is more of an argument for building the proposed new school on the Sahler Sanitarium site, than an argument against the housing project.

There are other arguments but lack of space prevents me from touching on others than the above.

Asks Republican Support

I recommend to the Republican aldermen of this city that they vote in favor of the housing project. Of course, that is for each one to decide as the representative of his ward.

So far as Mayor Newkirk and I are concerned, we feel that we are fighting for something that is good and beneficial. If the Common Council rejects the proposal, we shall of course accept the result without rancor or bitterness and in keeping with the tradition that the legislative body of our city is an equal and coordinate branch of government.

Governor Signs Indian Pay Bill Offered by Wicks

Albany, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—Governor Dewey signed a bill today raising the pay of teachers in the state's six Indian schools.

Effective April 1, 1950, teachers' minimum salaries of $2,460 will be boosted to $2,760 and the annual pay increases will be raised from $120 to $140.

The measure also boosts the minimum salaries of principals from $3,580 to $3,880 and provides graduated increases for head teachers and supervising principals.

The bill was introduced by Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Kingston Republican.

The six Indian schools have a total of about 40 teachers and a total student enrollment of 800. Approximately 700 other Indian students attend public schools.

The schools are at the St. Regis Reservation, Hogansburg; Onondaga Reservation, Nedrow; Tuscarora Reservation, Lewiston; Cattaraugus Reservation, Gowanda; Allegany Reservation, Salamanca; and Shinnecock Reservation, Southampton, L. I.

Two Records

East Lansing, Mich. (AP)—Bill Rapchak, Michigan State College basketball star, broke two Spartan scoring marks during the recent campaign. Rapchak netted 29 points against Virginia for a modern scoring mark, and raised his total for three seasons to 828 points, breaking the old mark of 454 points held by Sam Fortino, former Spartan court star.

feature of the hand is Lee's cue-bid of four clubs, then the bid of five spades. When asked why he did not bid five hearts, Lee explained that his partner knew that he had hearts. If the opponents bid six clubs, when it came around to him again he could bid six hearts, thus giving his partner a chance to bid six spades. "If I bid five hearts on the second round," said Lee, "and the opponents go to six clubs, what am I going to do now?"

South failed to cash the ace of diamonds, so Lee made seven spades. At the other table the hand was played six hearts doubled, which was defeated.

He once broke the quarter mile track record, but unfortunately it never got in the book because the winner of the race naturally establish a better record. He played semi-professional baseball, and once had the privilege of playing with Lou Gehrig, and another time against Babe Ruth.

Today's hand helped Lee and his team to win one of their matches in the Vanderbilt Cup tournament. The most interesting board of trustees to acquire property and build new colleges and technical schools as part of the state university system. (Sen. Benjamin F. Feinberg, R-Plattsburgh).

Approved a bill giving the state industrial-commissioner full administrative supervision over all boards and divisions of the state labor department. (Sen. William F. Condon, R-Yonkers).

Opposition to the Condon bill resulted in the resignation of the Rev. William J. Kelley of Buffalo, chairman of the state labor relations board.

Father Kelley last Tuesday announced his resignation from the board, effective May 15, and said it could be interpreted as a "protest action" against the measure.

The bill gives industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi supervisory power over all units of the Labor Department in administrative matters such as personnel, office space and finances.

Some unions, in particular the Labor Relations Board and the Workmen's Compensation Board, have been virtually independent agencies although nominally in the Labor Department.

In a memorandum, Dewey wrote: "The bill will not authorize and does not permit encroachment upon the integrity of the quasi-judicial agencies (such as the S. R. B. and the Workmen's Compensation Board) in the department with respect to their particular functions."

"The bill makes salutary provision for the proper organization of the so-called 'housekeeping' functions of the many agencies contained within the State Department of Labor."

Dewey said he "agreed wholly" with the stand of the New York County Lawyers' Association in explaining his veto of the bill which would have compelled a judge to follow a jury's recommendations in "felony" murder cases.

Under present law, a jury may recommend life imprisonment in such cases, but the court is not obliged to comply.

A "felony" murder is a death that occurs in connection with a robbery or some other felony.

The Lawyers' Association said the bill "would defeat the present policy of the state since it would fetter the hands of the court . . . even where the record and history of the offender warrants the extreme penalty."

The bill permitting cities to condemn property for construction of garages had been urged by Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City for two years.

Under terms of the bill, cities are authorized to sell or lease property acquired through condemnation to private interests which would build and operate garages.

The cities are empowered to prescribe restrictions on the transfer of the property and also to fix or approve parking rates.

The bill re-defining the powers of the state university trustees was designed to clarify the trustees' authority in setting up the state university system.

Dewey also signed two bills that permit New York City to continue until July 1, 1952, special local taxes, including its two per cent sales tax.

The permissive taxes were scheduled to expire July 1. They include, in addition to the sales tax, a tax on hotel rooms, a utility tax and taxes on gross business receipts.

Contract rate for yearly advertising on contract.

Rate per line of white space is the same as a line of type.

Ads ordered for three or six days and space before that time will be charged only for the number of times the ad appears in the paper.

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the one time insertion rate. No ad will be run on basis of three lines.

The Kingston Daily Freeman will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.

Classified advertisements taken until 10:30 o'clock P.M. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, 6:00 p. m. on Sunday.
